

Responsible Employees & Campus Security Authorities Policy

Fuller Theological Seminary is committed to responding to reports of sexual violence, sexual harassment, and/or sexual misconduct, including sexual assault, domestic violence, dating violence, and stalking in a timely manner. To do this, employees who are identified as Responsible Employees have a mandatory duty to timely report such incidents to a Title IX & Discrimination Officer. Campus Security Authorities (CSAs) have a mandatory duty to timely report such incidents to the Department of Campus Safety.

The following provides a list of departments and/or positions, which are currently considered Responsible Employees and/or Campus Security Authorities. Note that employees in positions and/or departments listed may be both a Responsible Employee and Campus Security Authority. Please keep in mind that the lists below are subject to change as functional responsibilities change. Every employee should also feel free to report incidents of sexual violence, sexual harassment, and/or sexual misconduct even if their position is not included on one of the lists below. The primary goal is to help keep Fuller a safe place for students, employees, and residents to learn, work, and live. Also provided below is a list of who is exempt from reporting as a Responsible Employee or Campus Security Authority.

RESPONSIBLE EMPLOYEES

Responsible Employees are mandated to report sexual harassment, discrimination, sexual misconduct, and/or retaliation to their supervisor, the Title IX Coordinator, or a Title IX & Discrimination Officer (see contact info below). All administrators/managers and supervisors at Fuller are considered responsible employees/mandated reporters. Anyone else who may be perceived by a member of the Fuller community to be able to take action on behalf of the seminary is also considered a Responsible Employee/mandated reporter, even if not included on the following list.

CONFIDENTIAL FULLER REPORTING OPTIONS: EXEMPT FROM REPORTING

By law, schools may identify confidential on-campus reporting options, such as licensed clinicians operating in the role of licensed therapists or chaplains who are recognized pastoral counselors, which are exempt from mandated reporting. This allows an option for employees, students, and residents to report any instances of sexual assault, domestic violence, dating violence, and/or stalking in a completely confidential way, and which will not be reported to anyone else on campus unless requested by the victim. Any reporting required by the Clery Act for the Annual Security Report would only be aggregate, and would not identify any particular individual.

At Fuller, the current confidential reporting options are listed below:

- Irene Rapp, MS, LMFT, Director of Training, Fuller Psychological & Family Services, 626-584-5569, irenerapp@fuller.edu

- Fuller Psychological & Family Services clinicians, operating in that capacity, will also maintain confidentiality under their professional license, or that of their supervisor, 626-584-5555.
- Seminary Chaplain(s), as recognized pastoral counselors or ordained clergy, maintain confidentiality in conjunction with their pastoral counseling duties, 626-584-5273.

CLERGY CONFIDENTIALITY?

While many Fuller administrators, faculty, and staff are ordained clergy, their role at the seminary takes precedence as to whether or not they are mandated reporters. For example, ordained administrators/supervisors at Fuller are mandated reporters, as are ordained faculty who are supervisors/administrators or who advise student groups.
