Grants Awarded:

- Principal Leader for Vocational Formation in a Changing World of Work, a 3-year project funded by a $350,000 gift from the Robert and Janice McNair Foundation in Houston, TX (2021-2023). This grant is the second grant we’ve received from the McNair Foundation and is intended to support building out Road Ahead, investing in vocational coaching, digital resource creation, and supporting the promotion of my first book, Make Work Matter: Your Guide to Meaningful Work in a Changing World.
- Principal Leader for Healthy Marketplace Leadership Initiative, a 3-year project funded by a $1,000,000 gift from the Looper Foundation in Houston, TX (2020-2023). This grant is part of a larger gift to Fuller Seminary. Though this grant supports a variety of aspects of our De Pree Center work, I am charged with leading the overall effort as well as researching, designing, and building resources and learning experiences meant to help leaders cultivate strong internal lives so that they might live wisely as disciples of Jesus.
- Principal Leader for Entrepreneurship, Faith, and Flourishing Initiative, a 2-year project funded by a $350,000 grant from the Robert and Janice McNair Foundation in Houston, TX (2018-2020). With this grant, the goal was to convert my doctoral project into resources for marketplace leaders. From this we created workshops, a coaching program, and Road Ahead.
- Contributor to Broadening the Conversation, Strengthening the Network, Increasing the Impact, an 18-month, $540,000 grant from the Kern Family Foundation (2018-2020).
- Program Lead charged with developing new initiatives for entrepreneurs and bi-vocational leaders, a program supported by a $100,000 gift from Grace and Mercy Foundation as part of a larger gift to Fuller (2017-2018).
- Visiting Fellow, Anglican Deaconess Ministries, Sydney Australia (2019)
- Funding for Dissertation Project from Kern Family Foundation through Max De Pree Center for Leadership (2016-2017)
- Educating for Agility Grant Participant, funding via Wabash Center. Project directed by Barbara Blodgett of Lexington Theological Seminary (2015)
- Into the Noise Cohort Participant, funded via Austin Theological Seminary (2014-2015)
- Christian Leader’s Doctoral Fellow, Fuller Seminary (2014-2015)
- CATS Scholarship Recipient, Fuller Seminary (2014-2015)
- Max De Pree Center for Leadership Doctoral Fellow, Fuller Seminary (2012-2014)

Additional Relevant Work Experience

2018-Present	Senior Director , Max De Pree Center for Leadership, Fuller Seminary
--------------	---

Key Accomplishments at De Pree Center

- Served as principal leader for $1,700,000 in grants (details on page 2).
- Served as a key content creator and thought leader for De Pree, including securing a two-book deal with Baker Books. Make Work Matter: Your Guide to Meaningful Work in a Changing World, is due out in Fall 2021.
- Diversified revenue streams by envisioning, creating, and overseeing the center's first endeavors into income generating products and services. This meant seeing projects through from concept to delivery, envisioning and designing learning environments that lead to transformation, as well as managing organizational change as this type of activity was new for the center and stretched our mental models in a number of ways.
- Built a solid team, clear systems, effective processes, and a healthy organizational culture, which has enabled the center to flourish financially, grow its reputation in the Faith + Work sector, and explore new initiatives.

Other Highlights at De Pree Center

- Envisioned, designed, and built the Road Ahead, a six-week group experience for individuals that helps people move from stuck to unstuck and discern next steps on their vocational journey. Originally built for young marketplace leaders, the program has had surprising resonance with professionals of all ages, including retirees. The participants in this program report that the program makes a meaningful impact on their lives, which is both good for the Kingdom and has helped attract new donors and foundations.
- Strategize, oversee, and when necessary execute audience growth and engagement efforts via email and social media. Because of these efforts our Faith, Work, and Leadership newsletter has grown from 1,500 to 11,500 people in three years. Our social media accounts have gone from almost zero followers to over 2,000 on both Instagram and Facebook.
- Oversee an annual budget ranging from 700,000-1,200,000 and moved the center toward fiscal health, wise spending, and a clear understanding of our finances.
- Lead new research and integrative efforts including new research investigating best practices on how leaders unlearn and relearn in their life and work, hopefully tackling blind spots and cognitive bias that often hinder effectiveness and organizational flourishing.

2012-Present Co-Founder and Producer, Long Winter Media

2012-2018 Co-Founder and Managing Director, Long Winter Media

Key Accomplishments at Long Winter Media

- Successfully launched and ran a business full time for six years before finishing my doctorate and stepping into my role as Senior Director of De Pree Center. I continue to engage with select clients through Long Winter Media, though it's on a much more limited basis. Importantly, this real-world business experience gives me a lot of empathy for and credibility with Christian business leaders.
- Nurtured relationships and successfully landed contracts with dozens of clients, enabling me to work with leaders across industries such as finance, wellness, manufacturing, education, real estate, technology, and faith-based nonprofits. This included work for notable clients such as YouTube, Google, Twitter, NBCUniversal, University of Southern California, PC(USA), as well as bootstrapped startups and home-grown non-profits.

- Produced, oversaw, and consulted on multi-media projects, which required: a) strategizing the use of multi-media content to meet target revenue and impact goals; b) managing projects with budgets between $1,000-$100,000; c) creative direction; d) managing teams of artists and creatives toward common goals; e) ensuring client satisfaction on a range of issues related to design, project execution, etc.

Select Projects at Long Winter Media

Project: Come Eat, a Short Film Documentary

Client: Fuller Seminary's Brehm Center

Impact: Come Eat is the story of a chef who found recovery from substance abuse by learning to cook. Come Eat was picked up by Oprah Winfrey's Super Soul Sunday in 2016 and aired with an interview of Glennon Doyle. It now lives on SuperSoul.TV.

Project: Video Production and Strategy

Client: ABL Denim

Impact: ABL is a fashion company that creates adaptive clothing for people with physical disabilities. As a result of our audience growth strategy and corresponding videos, ABL received funding and awards from numerous sources, including a $250,000 Chase Bank Mission Main Street Grant and a successful attempt at a $16,000 Kickstarter Campaign.

Project: The Space I Fill, Brand Launch Video

Client: Do the Good Stuff

Impact: Do the Good Stuff exists to promote a healthy view of self in light of the fitness and fashion industries. The purpose of video was tribe building – specifically on Facebook. Within a few weeks, the video had tens of thousands of views and was a key factor in how DTGS got 10,000 Facebook page likes.

Project: Brand Clarity for Project Hope

Client: Head First Development

Impact: With clear branding and assets in place, Project Hope increased its grant awards and individual donors by 20% in Year One of the rebrand. Additionally, they raised $30,000 on Indiegogo's Generosity Platform.

Project: Four Part India Video Series

Client: Head First Development

Impact: As a result of this video series, online and in person giving rose by 600% and 200% respectively. The client liked to say that the videos "paid for themselves" within a week of launch.
